May God help you and protect our soldiers. However the movement seems very uncoordinated . God save us and protect our gallant military

Give them surprise attack, hit them harder in their bases, intelligent gathering should intensify their information beyond this, not just running helter skelter, not well organized operations but may God gives our soldiers victory.

This people has no professional training. They seems not to be obeying instructions from the commander. Anyway, God knows the best.

Is that how the war against Insurgents is?

You are just acting film which is not real but a comedy 5

For those saying the soldiers are not well coordinated, I pray u don't find ur self in a life or death situation one day. That's when u will know that u do whatever it takes to stay alive.

Sorry to say., I can now see the reason boko haram kill lot of soldier. They dont have coordination and war movement. Just scattered advancing. They will never learn. Shouting and alarming their enemies. Some are even scared to advance.
