of the LIFE of

OLAUDAH EQUIANO;

Or,

GUSTAVUS VASSA, THE AFRICAN:

Written by himself.

The Narrative contains the following Articles:

The Author's observations on his country, and the different nations in Africa; With an account of their Manners and Customs, Religion, Marriages, Agriculture, Buildings—The manner how he and his Sister were kidnapped, and of their accidentally meeting again in Africa—His astonishment at the sight of the Sea, the Vessels, White Men, and the various objects he beheld on his first arrival In England, particularly a Fall of Snow—An account of five years Transactions in the Wars.

The General Magazine and Impartial Review, for July 1787 [sic], characterizes this work in the following terms:—"This is 'a round unvarnished tale' of the chequered adventures of an African, who, early in life, was torn from his native country by those savage dealers in a traffic disgraceful to humanity, and which has fixed a stain on the Legislature of Britain. The narrative appears to be written with much truth and simplicity. The author's account of the manners of the natives of his own province (Eboe) is interesting and pleasing."

To be had of the Author, at the King's Arms Inn, Trongate, and of the Booksellers in this city.
